ISRC HIGHLIGHTS (JAN-JUNE 2017):

- Hosted four Beyond DACA clinics to serve 40 families in collaboration with ScholarshipsA-Z, 3 local high schools, the UA Law School, and local immigration attorneys.
- Co-hosted a town hall discussion about the U.S. President’s executive orders on immigration and refugees for over 400 participants at the UA Law School. Free legal consultations were also provided to UA students and families seeking answers to questions about immigration status.
- Hosted a community screening of Indivisible and panel discussion for 90 participants who wanted to learn how immigration detention and deportation impacts immigrant families.
- Hosted 2 Wildcats UndocuPeers Training sessions for 47 UA faculty and staff.
  - While the assessments did not show significant growth in the areas measure, it is important to note that 96% of participants (N=44) noted that they are committed to advancing the success of undocumented students and students from refugee backgrounds. This will continue to improve the campus climate for students.
- Co-hosted a one-day training for 105 educators from the UA, Pima Community College, nonprofit organizations, and various AZ high schools. Participants learned updates on immigration policies and best practices on how to support students from immigrant and refugee backgrounds.
  - According to our pre- and post-assessments, there was a 200% increase in participants agreeing or strongly agreeing that they are well-equipped with the skills to help undocumented immigrant students and their families after attending the conference.
- Student leaders engaged in meetings with the ASUA President and campus administrators (President, Vice Presidents, Provost) to begin discussing the creation of a private scholarship at the UA that is open to all students, regardless of immigration status.
